

Dear Client,

The developments are moving fast, so here again an update of the measures taken at obstetric care in Haarlem and Haarlemmermeer with regard to the Corona virus. The main additions to the aforementioned measures are:

- As of today, only the pregnant woman is welcome at the medical ultrasounds. This is to minimize the risk of contamination for the sonographer. She plays an important role in the care for the pregnant women and their unborn child.
- A water birth is currently not possible. This increases the chance of contamination for the midwife and nurse.
- In maternity week, the advice is now to measure the baby's temperature three times a day

Once again we would like to emphasize that we take these measures in order to continue to provide the best care for you as pregnant women. With all the uncertainties out there, one thing is absolutely clear: We are ready for you, with or without a mask :) and would like to accompany you on your way to parenthood.

Met vriendelijke groet,

Coöperatie Verloskundigen Haarlem en Meer
